3. Journey in a Train – Trip to Galle

One day, I went on a trip to Galle with my family. We went by train from Colombo to Galle. It was a very fun and happy journey.

We went to the Fort Railway Station early in the morning. The train was big and full of people. We found seats near the window. When the train started, I looked outside. The view was beautiful. I saw trees, houses, and the sea.

The best part was the train going next to the ocean. I saw the blue sea, waves, and boats. The fresh wind came through the window. I felt so happy and free. We ate sandwiches and drank juice. We also talked and laughed during the ride.

After some time, we reached Galle Station. Galle is a nice city with old buildings and beaches. We went to see the Galle Fort. It was very big and strong. We walked on the fort walls and took photos. The view of the sea from the top was amazing.

Then we went to the beach. The sand was soft and the water was clear. I played near the sea with my family. We bought ice cream and had lunch at a small restaurant.

After a full day of fun, we took the train back to Colombo. I felt tired but very happy. This trip is one of my favourite memories. I will never forget the train ride, the sea view, and the time with my family.

I hope to go to Galle again one day.
